

IF I HAVE SINNED.

If I have sinned in act, I may repent;
If I have erred in thought, I may disclaim
My silent error, and yet feel no shame:
But if my soul, big with an ill intent,
Guilty in will, by fate be innocent,
Or being bad, yet murmurs at the cause
And incapacity of being worse,
That makes my hungry passion still keep Lent
In keen expectation of a Carnival,—
Where in all worlds that round the sun revolve,
And shed their influence on this passive ball,
Lives there a power that can my soul absolve?
Could any sin survive, and be forgiven,
One sinful wish would make a hell of heaven.

Mr. Buford Freeman left last week for Jackson, where he has entered school.

It is estimated that the total apple crop of the United States of 1913 will be about 3,500,000 barrels less than last year.

Camels' hair, for fine brushes, having become scarce, enterprising manufacturers now substitute the fine hairs from the ears of steers, and it is sold as the genuine article all over the country.

Carl Weisher, of Missouri, exhibited at a recent fair 47 varieties of vegetables and farm products which he raised on 47 acres. There are no vacant fence corners, or in fact, a foot of vacant land on his little farm.

The world's record-breaking broom corn price of $227.50 per ton was paid to John Robertson, near Texhoma, Okla. One reason for the high price is that broom corn raisers formed a combination and held their supplies for high prices.

A fruit called durian, grown in the Philippines, on a tree resembling the elm, is as large as a coconut, has a shiny shell and contains a creamy pulp which combines some of the flavors of a delicious custard with those of a fine cheese. American soldiers have dubbed the fruit "vegetable limburger cheese."

Grigsby's Liv-ver-lax, that delicious liver syrup, has displaced calomel in nearly every home. Good for grown-ups and children alike. Ask W. R. Bobbitt. tf.

His Stomach Troubles Over.

Mr. Dyspeptic, would you not like to feel that your stomach troubles were over, that you could eat any kind of food you desired without injury? That may seem so unlikely to you that you do not even hope for an ending of your trouble, but permit us to assure you that it is not altogether impossible. If others can be cured permanently, and thousands have been, why not you? John R. Barker, of Battle Creek, Mich., is one of them. He says, "I was troubled with heartburn, indigestion, and liver complaint until I used Chamberlain's Tablets, then my trouble was over." Sold by all dealers.

The Farmer Boys' Education.

The farmer who expects to do business by the rule of "by guess" or "by the thumb" and achieve success in these times may as well go out of business, for he will surely fail.

The farmer of today must study his business just as every other successful business man does, if he would succeed, and must learn to profit by the success of the wiser ones and the failures of the unwise ones.

No farmer is too old to learn new things, but if he thinks he is he must see to it that his sons are prepared to keep up with the march of progress in his business or fail. It is not absolutely necessary that a boy should take a full course in an agricultural college—though that would be best, if possible—but he should at least attend one or two years and take every short course offered by the college of his state. Some boys get good educations without going to college, but they do not learn without reading and seeing and thinking.

If a boy cannot go to college he can have the advantages of the experts at the experiment stations, not only in the bulletins published but from the private correspondence of the teachers themselves. Let him present his problems, ask questions and describe his methods to the teachers and investigators and he will be helped and guided and encouraged until he cannot help becoming a good farmer, if he has set his heart upon it.

And the man who does not encourage his sons in the desire to educate themselves to the highest degree and learn all there is to know about the business is doing them a monstrous injustice.

Quit calomel; it is dangerous. Try Grigsby's Liv-ver-lax, that vegetable liver syrup guaranteed to produce even better results than calomel. It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Any child can take it with safety. Ask W. R. Bobbitt. tf.

In Memory of Mattie Greer.

On Wednesday morning, Dec. 17, 1913, the death angel entered the home of Mr. Cicero Greer and took the loving daughter from this world of sorrow to that home beyond the skies.

Mattie Maybel Greer was born May 23, 1898, being fifteen years, six months and twenty-five days old at the time of her death. She professed faith in Christ in the year 1912 during a revival meeting at Jolly Springs.

She was afflicted several months with that dread disease, consumption. Her sufferings were great, but she bore her affliction patiently. She leaves a father, one sister and one brother, besides a host of other relatives and friends to mourn her death. The funeral service was conducted at the Tomlinson burying ground in the presence of a number of neighbors and friends by Eld. J. F. Powers. Let us not weep as those who have no hope; for she is not dead, but is sleeping, and may we all live nearer to God so that when the time comes we can meet Mattie Maybel where there will be no more good-byes.
